Excerpt from County Code, Chapter 12:
Load Size, Tires, and Brush/Yard Waste

Load Size. Residential debris hauled in any vehicle will be limited to the equivalent of a pickup truck bed of approximately 60 cubic feet per day. Any larger loads must be taken to the Region 2000 Services Authority Livestock Road Regional Landfill.

Tires. County residents may dispose of eight (8) tires per year, in loads of up to four (4) tires at a time, at the Livestock Road Transfer Site only. The Towns of Altavista and Brookneal may bring tires from their town maintenance shops to the Livestock Road Transfer Site only. All others must be taken to the Region 2000 Services Authority Livestock Road Regional Landfill.

Brush and Yard Waste. County residents may dispose of an unlimited amount of brush and yard waste collected from their residences at the Livestock Road Transfer Site only. All commercial haulers of brush and yard waste must take their loads to the Region 2000 Services Authority Livestock Road Regional Landfill unless they have negotiated a separate contractual arrangement with the County's Director of Public Works.

Additional restrictions may be found in the Campbell County Code, Chapter 12: Garbage, Refuse, and Weeds.
