Free Computer Tutoring at Library

A free computer tutoring service is now available at the Patrick Henry Memorial Library in Brookneal. An experienced volunteer has offered her services to assist anyone who needs help using a computer. She will work with those who have never been near a computer or assist someone with a specific request.

The person wanting the one hour session contacts the library leaving name and phone number. That information will be shared with the volunteer who will call and arrange a time to meet at the library for the tutoring session. To request a tutor stop by the Library when they are open on Tuesdays, Wednesday, Thursdays, or Saturday morning or you may call 376-3363.
